Hal Longley, Sale Manager
16 S. Locust Street, Aurora, Illinois

Being strictly of American origin, the development of the Polled Shorthorn breed has been dependent solely on foundations procurable in the United States. During the life of the breed there have been a few conspicuous leaders, men who paid equally as much attention to the task of breeding good type, character and quality as to the single task of eliminating horns. These men have provided the sources of supply that have brought the breed to its present high standing on a worldwide basis. The late Carl M. Johnson must be numbered among these leaders and the Carona Herd today stands as a monument to his efforts. Great new herds have been founded and already well established herds have been strengthened all over the world through Carona bloodlines. The herd is at the peak of its performance today.

Those who have never visited Carona Farms, have a treat in store for them. Nearly all of the present herd members were bred on this farm, many of them for several generations, and have been produced from carefully planned matings. The result is a cow herd of remarkable uniformity in color, type and quality, and every animal displays the character that can result only from rich ancestry.

This sale deserves the highest possible recommendation. The cattle to be offered are excellent individuals. There are no culls — the owners did the culling each year regularly. Each animal is from a family of proven producers and the great herd bull Cherry Hill Royal Oak x, whose blood will be featured, has made a record with few equals in the history of the breed. Although the closing out will prove a great loss, seldom in the history of the breed have such buying opportunities been provided.

The Johnson family of DeKalb, Illinois. Standing are the late Carl M. Johnson and Mrs. Johnson and seated are daughters Lee and Barbara. Barbara is now Mrs. Thomas Halverstadt.

The decision to disperse the Carona Herd was perhaps the most difficult one I have ever been called upon to make. Although this herd was only a part of an extensive program of balanced farming at Carona, all who read this message are aware that the advancement and improvement of the Polled Shorthorn breed provided one of the greatest interests in Carl's life. It was this interest that presented to Carl one of the greatest challenges in his life and it was through this interest that he acquired many friends that meant a great deal to him.

Although I have learned much about livestock in general and Polled Shorthorns in particular through my life on Carona Farms, I do not feel capable nor do I wish to write words of praise for Carona cattle. The records speak for themselves. Cattle from this herd have formed a vital part of the foundations of the leading herds all over North America and in many foreign countries. They have resulted in the general improvement of the breed, which was the lifelong ambition of the man who established the herd.

My life at Carona prompts me to say that there is something about the business of breeding Polled Shorthorns that cannot be matched in any other form of endeavor. All who are engaged in this work are, in a sense, keen competitors. Yet, the competition ripens into friendships, almost never into enemies.

It is with mixed feelings that I invite you to this sale but with a feeling of assurance that the cattle to be sold will continue to improve the breed.

A Word of Advice . . .

No herd is better than the men behind it. Carl M. Johnson directed the Carona Herd until his death and won world wide acclaim as a "Builder of the Breed." Kendall Kellar was an efficient herdsman under Carl's direction and has been an equally efficient manager since the death of the founder. Kendall knows the Carona cattle and believes in them. In his own words, "These cattle are dependable and honest." If you want information on sale day, ask Kendall Kellar. His advice will be valuable and thoroughly reliable.

Shorthorn quality will gather on October 11th

An air view of the buildings on Carona Farm No. 1 where this sale is to be held.

Carona Farms, where the production of 560 rich Illinois acres is marketed entirely through livestock, is an institution of which all Polled Shorthorn breeders may be proud. There is much to see and it is to be hoped that those who attend the sale will arrive early in order to inspect the herd and make a thorough study of the Carona system of balanced farming.

Highlights in the life of ...

CHERRY HILL ROYAL OAK x2345276

Purchased at $3,800 in the 1947 Cherry Hill Sale. Within thirty days following purchase he was awarded the reserve grand championship in strong horned competition at the Eastern National Exposition and reserve championship at the International Live Stock Show.

His first five calves brought back more than the purchase price and those that were sold from the first two calf crops averaged well into four figures.

His third calf crop produced Carona Fascination x. He was sold at the side of his dam, Carona Belle 9th x, in the March, 1951 Illinois State Sale, where she won the female grand championship and he won the bull grand championship at 7 months old.

At the 1952 International, Carona Fascination x won the reserve grand championship for Lynnwood Farms and Carona Direct x won the reserve junior championship for Carl M. Johnson. Both are sons of Cherry Hill Royal Oak x.

In the 1953 International Sale his son, Carona Masterpiece x, was purchased by Dalgety & Co. of Australia at $1,600. This bull was later resold in Australia for 2,500 guineas ($7,500). The top selling female in the same sale was out of a daughter of Cherry Hill Royal Oak x.

At the 1954 International, the great young bull LF Fascination x owned by Landen Farms, was awarded the grand championship. He is a son of Carona Fascination x by Cherry Hill Royal Oak x.

At the 1955 Illinois State Fair, Carona Bard x, a son of Cherry Hill Royal Oak x, won first prize in the senior yearling class as well as senior and reserve grand championship. He was named grand champion in the Illinois Division. This bull later sold to an Australian buyer at $5,000 and his first calves are reported to be the sensation of that country.

At the same show, Carona Clarion x, now owned by Tujays Farm in Maryland, was first prize senior bull calf and reserve junior champion in the open show. He was named reserve grand champion in the Illinois Division.

Also at the same show sons of Cherry Hill Royal Oak won first in the 2-bull class, second prize in the 3-bull class, and daughters of this great sire won grand championship and reserve junior championship in the Illinois division.

During the past six years, sons and daughters of Cherry Hill Royal Oak x have won ten championships and four reserve championships at Illinois State Shows and Sales held under the auspices of the Illinois Shorthorn Breeders' Association.

Ten sons of Carona Fascination x are selling in the Lynnwood All-Bull Sale at Carmel, Indiana, on November 5th, and they are among the tops in that sale.

At the 1956 International, five of the eight bulls brought out in the championship class were grandsons or great grandsons of Cherry Hill Royal Oak. The junior and reserve grand champion bull and the reserve junior champion bull were both great grandsons. The groups that won first prize in the get-of-sire and junior get-of-sire classes were made up entirely of grandsons and granddaughters of Cherry Hill Royal Oak x.

See page 8 of this catalog for a record of great wins at the 1957 Illinois State Fair by sons and daughters of Cherry Hill Royal Oak x.

Cherry Hill Royal Oak x — This entire catalog is so filled with the proof of his breeding ability that little more need be said. His sons and daughters are working improvement all over North America and in many foreign countries. It is of great interest to note six of his calves have been exported to Scotland, two to Argentina, two to South America, two to New Zealand and four to Australia.

Note — Frozen semen from Cherry Hill Royal Oak x, sufficient for approximately 200 services, will become the property of the new owner of this bull.

These four animals won first prize in the get-of-sire class at the 1957 Denver Show. All are by Leveldale Custodian, sire of Lot 2. We bought Susanna's Custodian 5th because we wanted to introduce this type into the polled branch of the breed.

Carona Aspiration x — First prize senior yearling at the 1957 Illinois State Fair and second in class to the reserve champion at the 1956 International. Many consider him the best bull ever dropped at Carona Farms. Note that his dam is Cherry Hill Augusta Brae x, one of the most famous cows of the breed. About ten females in this sale are bred to Carona Aspiration. Five different breeders have wanted a price on this bull since the last International. We have reserved him for this sale. His dam sells as Lot 11 and four other female members of this family also sell.

Look them over . . . They're all full brothers to Carona Ringleader, Lot 4 in this sale.

(Left): Carona Masterpiece x, second high selling bull of the 1952 International sale at $1,600. He was sold for export to Australia and top Australian judges consider him the best Polled Shorthorn sire ever to come from America to that country. His calves were prominent winners at the 1957 Royal Easter Show at Sydney, Australia. He is a full brother to Lot 4.

(Right): Carona Paymaster x, grand champion bull at the 1953 Illinois State Show and Sale. He was purchased by Robert Asquith, What Cheer, Iowa. He is a full brother to Lot 4 in this sale.

(Left): Carona Clarion x, reserve junior champion at the 1955 Illinois State Fair and grand champion at the National Show at Des Moines in 1955. He is now owned by Tujays Farm, Sparks, Maryland. He is a full brother to Lots 4 and 18 in this sale and his dam sells as Lot 16.

And the great Carona Fascination x, famous sire at Lynnwood Farm, was also produced from the mating of Cherry Hill Royal Oak with a cow from this same Carona Belle family.

Important . . .

Please turn to Lot 18 and note that she is a full sister to Carona Ringleader.

Carona Alsup x — The last calf out of the great cow Kintyre Crocus x that died recently at the age of 18 years. She produced four Illinois State Sale champions for Carona and several of our highest selling females. This calf is like the rest of our Carona Bards, thick, well fleshed and low set.

No more famous group in the world could be found than this one at Carona Farms. From left to right: Carona Belle 14th x by Cherry Hill Royal Oak x, the family that produced the International reserve champion Carona Fascination x; Cherry Hill Royal Oak x, International reserve champion and great improving sire; Carona Mina 14th x by Collynie Nugget x, the family that produced Carona Direct x; Cherry Hill Augusta Brae x, reserve champion female 1948 and 1949 Internationals, by Collynie Compact x; Cherry Hill Spicy 4th x by Collynie Compact x, the family that produced the 1946 International champion female. Four members of this group sell in this sale. See Lots 1, 30, 18 and 11.

Important

On the following pages are listed all of the females that now make up the Carona Herd. Dispersion sales provide wonderful opportunities to buy brood cows that are never offered for sale under other conditions. However, there are certain vital things a buyer wants to know before investing his money, namely (1) health, (2) ability to rear a calf, and (3) performance. Regarding the first, it may be said that this herd has always been under expert management and the health of the cattle has been carefully guarded. Regarding the second, it should be understood that no female held her position unless she proved herself thoroughly capable and reliable. The footnotes in this catalog are factual regarding the matter of performance. In each case we have given the production record of each cow. It will be obvious to those who study the footnotes that the brood cows in this sale are honest and reliable.

Please Note — Complete show and fitting equipment, along with eight good nurse cows, will be sold by auction at 10:00 a.m., Central Standard Time on October 11th.

(Right): Carona Bard x won first prize in the senior yearling class at the 1955 Illinois State Fair and went on to win the senior and reserve grand championship of that show. He was exported to Australia at $5,000 where his first calves are proving sensational. His dam is Lot 11.

Carona Belle 29th x — She comes right out of our 1957 show herd. Her dam, Lot 19, produced the champion female at the fall Illinois State Sale in 1956. A good Shorthorn breeder on a recent visit to Carona remarked that this is the kind of a heifer on which he would like to start a Polled Shorthorn herd. Bred in April to Susanna's Custodian 5th.

Eighteen Championships in Nineteen Years

Does Carona blood breed on?

Ever notice how many champions descend from animals purchased from Carona Farms? Carona Belle 9th x, shown at the left with calf at foot, was consigned to the March, 1951, Illinois State Sale by Carona Farms. Perhaps they looked high when Lynnwood Farms bought the pair at $2,125 — but were they? Please read on.

Here's the calf Carona Belle 9th x had at foot. His name is Carona Fascination x and he is a son of Cherry Hill Royal Oak x. Picture was taken after he won many 1952 Championships, including reserve championship at the 1952 International. But that isn't all — please read on.

Did Carona Fascination prove to be a great breeding bull? You bet he did and he is still doing a great job of stringing blue and purple winners. Among the many high honors won by his calves was first prize in the get-of-sire class at the 1956 International. The picture at the left shows the group that won this coveted award. Aren't they uniform? Isn't this the right type?

Does Carona blood breed on? You bet it does — and the records prove it! Pictured at the left is the first son of Carona Fascination x. His name is L F Fascination x and he won the International grand championship in 1954. He is now owned by Tulleevin Farm in Ohio where he is doing a great job as you will see from the picture shown below. Yes — those who have bought seed stock from Carona Farms have made good investments. Why not YOU?

Topping 11 entries in the International Polled Shorthorn get-of-sire competition were these four by Carona Fascination x exhibited by Lynnwood Farm, Carmel, Indiana.

And here's the group that won first prize in the junior get-of-sire class at the 1956 International. Yes, the blood of the great Cherry Hill Royal Oak x breeds on!

These eight animals were all sired by L F Fascination x, the 1954 International grand champion. At the 1956 International, members of this group won seven first prizes, three second prizes, a junior and reserve grand championship, and a reserve junior championship. YES — CARONA BLOOD BREEDS ON AND ON — ALWAYS TRUE TO TYPE.

Carona Mina 28th — a very good member of our strong Carona Mina family. She is a full sister to a third prize steer at the last International. We did not believe it wise to breed this heifer. She is a double bred Cherry Hill Royal Oak x, her dam is a full sister to Carona Direct x, the sire of Carona Aspiration x and she is horned, hence we did not want to breed her to Susanna's Custodian 5th. She sells open but she is one of our best heifers.

(Left): Carona Blythesome 61st x, purchased by Landen Farms of Ohio in our 1955 sale at $420. Her dam is Lot 37 and her granddam is Lot 36 in this sale.

(Right): Carona Royal Flush x, second prize summer yearling at the 1956 International. He was purchased at $510 by Robert Kietzman, Loda, Illinois. His dam sells as Lot 36 in this sale.

Carona Rosa Beauty 3rd x — This good granddaughter of Maxwalton Good Measure x and the Congress champion Kintyre Commando x will be bred to Carona Aspiration x, our senior yearling show bull that sells at Lot 3. This heifer was a member of our 1957 show herd.

A few facts that further prove the worth of Carona Polled Shorthorns

"With more herds like the one maintained by Carl Johnson, the Polled Shorthorn breed would advance by leaps and bounds." These were the words of Clinton K. Tomson, internationally famous judge, in a recent conversation with the writer.

Carona Masterpiece x is pictured on page 16 of this catalog. After winning many top awards as a calf and yearling in 1952 and 1953, he was sold in the 1953 International Sale to William Leonard & Sons, Welltown, Queensland, Australia. Here is what their manager, Gordon K. Simpson wrote soon after the arrival of this bull in far-away Australia:

"Many old hands and good judges in Australia have seen Carona Masterpiece x and consider him one of the best ever brought out."

And here is a quotation from the July 14, 1955, issue of Queensland Country Life:

"Feature of this year's show team from the Welton Herd is the first calf, a heifer, by Carona Masterpiece. She is a heifer any stud would be proud to show and will serve as a very good introduction to the stock of this American sire, whose calves have substantiated the claim that he is one of the best Polled Shorthorns ever to come to Australia.

At the 1956 Brisbane Exhibition, calves sired by Carona Masterpiece won first prize for sire's progeny group and first prize for breeder's group.

At the 1957 Sydney Royal Show, a son of Carona Masterpiece x was named junior champion. The newspaper Queensland Country Life in describing this champion states: "The winner owed his success to a good head, tremendous thickness, good balance and superb fleshing."

Another bull that has made an enviable record in Australia is Carona Consul x by Cherry Hill Royal Oak x. He is in service in the "Old Canowie" Herd owned by John Parker.

First purchase for the new herd established at the Queensland Agriculture College in Australia was a daughter of Carona Masterpiece x. About her an item in Queensland Country Life says: "The heifer is by the imported bull Carona Masterpiece x, considered by many to be one of the outstanding Polled Shorthorn sires in Australia.

Carona Bard x is pictured on Page 2. He was purchased in 1955 by Mrs. John Bushell, Laggan, New South Wales, Australia. A recent note from John McDonald, Sydney, states: "Heard from the Bushells the other day that Carona Bard's first calf has arrived, a bull, and they are delighted with him."
